Privacy & Decorative Film

Matte White Removable - Internal

Code: TPA-902-iRM

Opalux® TRADE matte white removable film is used to give two-way privacy, without seriously reducing the natural light level, when required on a temporary basis. This film has a finely textured matt finish, and can be applied to new or existing glass.

For both new build and refurbishment projects, the removable Opalux® TRADE matte white film offers a cost effective and flexible alternative to traditional acid-etching, sandblasting or printing.

This film allows freedom in the initial glass specification, with privacy being allocated later, when and where it is required, quickly and easily applied on site without removing the glass. The removable matte white is used where temporary privacy requirements are needed e.g. to prevent view into a room during building works or refurbishment, but still allowing plenty of natural light in.

As well as adding a distinctive designer style to the glass, this offers good privacy with an abundant level of light transmission.
